Occupation of Holly Springs.

The advance of General Grant's army has occupied Holly Springs, without much resistance. The rebels have retreated to the Hatchie river fifteen miles beyond, where it is said there is abundant supply of water and excellent ground for defence. It is supposed, however, that the enemy will fall back to Grenada, which is 77 miles south of Holly Springs, and it is predicted that whenever our army moves down the Mississippi Central railway to attack Grenada the rebels will fall still further back towards the gulf. Jackson is their last point of dependence, and when once we have that in our possession, Vicksburg will fall without a blow.

Not to be Credited.

The statement of the Washington Star that the army of the Potomac has stopped its advance because of the change in commanders, and that a battle has been postponed in consequence of it, should not be credited. That paper is a partisan democratic sheet, and seeks in this way to break the fall of its favorite, McClellan.

The Cause Should be in the Hands of its Friends.

We never quite subscribed to the saying attributed to General Jackson—"reward your friends and punish your enemies." We like the doctrine of rewarding friends, and paying no attention to enemies, better. The present administration, however, has reversed General Jackson's maxim—it rewards its enemies and punishes its friends. This policy was adopted in the beginning of its career, in regard to the civil offices at its disposal in the border states. The appointments in the army, to a large extent, followed this policy. Democrats were put at the head of our armies, and also placed in inferior positions in large numbers.— Stanton, Halleck, Thomas, McClellan, Burnside, Rosecrans, Grant, Buell and Pope are all democrats, and have had the management of the war in their hands, while republicans have been appointed only to feel the cold neglect or open hostility of the government. It was supposed, by the astute politicians who controlled the matter, that the democrats must be won by office and power, or they would oppose the war and favor the rebels, while it was known that republicans were so intensely loyal that they would support the government, no matter how they were treated. So far, the latter have done as was expected, but the democratic party has been no more propitiated by this conciliatory policy than the rebels. They are more bitter against the president, to-day, than ever. We give a specimen of the way the administration is spoken of by a leading democratic paper in this state, as a sample of their gratitude for the favors showered upon their prominent men. The Madison Patriot says:

"The miserable policy of the administration has disgusted everybody, and we trust it will profit by the solemn rebuke it has received."

The policy which the Patriot says has disgusted everybody, has been the democratic policy, and if anybody is rebuked by the elections, they are the men. The delays of the army are of McClellan's origin, designed according to Major Key's theory, to worry out and disgust the people so that a compromise might be effected with the rebels, and slavery saved as the rallying point of the democratic party in the future. The administration has suffered itself to be led into this snare, and the above paragraph embodies the thanks it is receiving for its good nature.

Whether Mr. Lincoln sees the point at which he has arrived, by rewarding his enemies and punishing his friends, we do not know, but we are well convinced that unless he fully adopts and carries out by acts the following doctrine enunciated in one of his own speeches, previous to the election, his administration will be a failure, and the rebels will succeed in their design of breaking up the Union:

"Our cause, then, must be entrusted to and conducted by its own undoubted friends—those whose hands are free, whose hearts are in the work, who do care for the result."

The Senatorship.

The Milwaukee News has the following speculations in regard to the senatorship, which we publish as democratic gossip, without endorsing any portion of it:

The republican candidates for United States senator already number a legion. Some are of the phrase of politics—some of another. Prominent among them are said to be Judge Potter, Judge Doolittle, Judge Noggle, Gen. Carpenter, Gov. Randall, Mr. McIndoe, J. Allen Barber, and C. Washburn. We have also heard the name of Hon. C. C. Sholes, of Kenosha, mentioned in the same connection. Judge Potter, if a candidate, will be likely to combine the radical element. Gov. Randall is a speculative candidate. Judge Doolittle's tergiversating course will be likely to leave him out in the wet, Wisconsin not being yet ready to aid in establishing negro colonies within the United States. Mr. McIndoe is a strong man in all things, and the republicans are largely indebted to him.

port from a few "early friends" but his race for the goal will end on the first quarter stroke. Mr. Barber has the advantage of a seat in the assembly, and if he handles the reins skillfully may make a show. If the republicans have a clear majority, it is quite probable that Mr. Sholes will be finally placed in nomination. He is a man of pure personal character, of greater natural abilities than either Doolittle, Randall or Potter, and not being an office seeker, is unobjectionable both to the masses of the party and to the leaders. If we are to have a republican senator, no better man could be chosen. But the whole matter is yet in doubt. It is by no means certain that the straight republicans will control the election. Some six or eight of the members were elected independently of any party support, and should these combine, it would not surprise us to see Judge Dixon or Judge Viles elected. We shall see what we shall see.

From the Thirty-Third Regiment.

CAMP UTLEY, Racine, Nov. 10, '62.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Our hospital steward having sent Co. F a receipt of hospital stores delivered by Lieut. Scott, in behalf of the ladies of Emerald Grove and vicinity, we feel it our duty to acknowledge the same through your columns, as our friends were the principal donors, and the articles well chosen.

The articles delivered to the hospital and company were as follows: 26 crash towels, 7 gowns, 11 shirts, 1 pair drawers, 5 pillow cases, 5 sheets, 15 old linen towels, 21 handkerchiefs, 4 pair socks, 2 comforters, 3 jars preserves, 7 packages dried fruit and 16 pounds honey.

Our surgeon solicits a contribution of similar articles, also bed ticks and pillow cases, the latter small size and made for the purpose of being filled with straw.

On the 18th we were mustered in the U. S. service and the boys received their $27, $2 premium and $25 advance United States bounty. On the 28th they were paid their one month's advance pay, while in fact over two months pay was due. Also, on the same day the citizens of Kenosha and Racine treated the 33d to a picnic dinner, it was principally furnished and quite impartially distributed by the citizens of Kenosha county, who have but two companies in the regiment. The pastry was of a superb quality, sufficient to satiate the most epicurean palate.

On the 21st we were mustered for pay, but the paymaster has not yet made his appearance. At that time there was near one and a half months pay due the men, and thirteen days pay due the commissioned officers, they only drawing pay from the date of mustering in the United States service.

On the 3d inst. Col. Moore marched the regiment down to the city square, where we executed various battalion movements to the colonel's entire satisfaction. We were then addressed by Senator Doolittle in a brief but well chosen speech; not alluding to the ensuing election, but the trials we must inevitably encounter as soldiers, and our proficiency in drill. He said that we had the reputation of being the most orderly and having made the greatest proficiency in drill of any troops that had been in the place. He did not flatter us in this, for the citizens had repeatedly told us so.

The sanitary condition of the regiment is not very flattering. There are, I believe, 25 in the hospital. The principal disease is mumps. Company F has three in the hospital—Edwin W. Burnham, defective eye; Jacob Hetrick, slight fever, and William H. Emmons, wounded hand, which happened in rather a mysterious or unaccountable manner. On the night of the 7th inst. he was bunked with Joseph W. Higday, the latter put his revolver in his overcoat pocket on going to bed; he rose at one o'clock to resume his place on guard. While Higday stood in front of his bunk the report of a revolver was heard and Emmons got up and asked the guard what the matter was. He exclaimed "My hand is shot to pieces." On examination we found that the ball had entered near the center of the palm of the left hand and had lodged near eight inches from the place of entrance in the lower side of the arm.

We received orders on Saturday to be ready to move on Tuesday. We undoubtedly shall take our leave on Wednesday for Cairo, where we expect to be attached to a brigade.

The Rebels Planning an Attack on New York.

Hon. Simon Cameron, late secretary of war, and now minister to Russia, arrived at New York from Europe on the steamship steamer "The New York Evening Post."

Mr. Cameron's future movements are undecided; he is, however, yet minister to Russia, not having resigned that position.

Mr. Cameron says that the Russian nation is as friendly to us as it has been hitherto. The Czar and imperial family received him with great courtesy and cordiality. Mr. Bayard Taylor is at present in charge of the American legation at Petersburg.

The feeling in Europe is described by Mr. Cameron as strongly favoring of us, in consequence of the continued inactivity of the federal arms. In England it is thought, however, that no active intervention will take place until parliament meets. The success or failure of the present campaign will, probably, decide the matter; and only decided victories on our side will dispel the idea, in his opinion.

It is generally understood in England that a rebel naval attack on our Atlantic cities is in preparation. Three immense iron-clad steam rams—the most powerful ever constructed—are building in English shipyards, and with these it is supposed the rebels will attack our northern cities. They have an especial desire to make a dash at New York, and even if the enterprise were but partially successful, the presence of rebel war vessels in New York harbor, if only for a single hour, would have a great effect abroad.

There is a secession club in Liverpool, numbering 300 members, who provide funds to furnish vessels to run our blockade. No individual member of this society is allowed to know what any other member contributes.

The sympathy for the rebels in Europe is daily increasing, and the delay in a federal advance is interpreted as a tacit admission of our inability to cope with the enemy.

Mr. Cameron thinks that the fortifications of New York should be at once attended to, and is surprised that the danger of an attack on that city is not more fully appreciated there.

The re-election of Owen Lovejoy, which has been for some time in dispute, is now conceded. His majority will be from 600 to 1,000.

BY TELEGRAPH.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.

Gov. Morgan and Collector Barney are here in relation to the defenses of New York harbor. It is understood the proper departments have acceded to their request for adequate and immediate protection, and the requisition for that purpose have already been issued.

New York, Nov. 12.

Five Connecticut regiments are to join Banks' expedition, and will be here this week.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., via.

Cairo, Nov. 13, 1862.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—About 7 o'clock this morning Col. Lee, chief of cavalry on Gen. Hamilton's staff, took possession of Holly Springs, after a slight skirmish just outside the breastworks, in which four rebels were killed and several taken prisoner.

Up to this hour (9 o'clock a. m.) we have taken 150 prisoners. The mayor and several prominent citizens have finally surrendered the town to the federal authorities, and have appointed a committee to obtain corn and provisions for the army.

Lieut. George W. Budd of the 2d Iowa cavalry has been appointed provost marshal. The forces now occupying the town are the 2d Iowa cavalry, the 7th Kansas cavalry, and the 3d Michigan cavalry.

The enemy's cavalry are now in force at Lumpkin's Mills, seven miles below, and our forces are not driving them, killing and taking prisoners.

The enemy will probably make a stand Tallahatchie.

Our infantry brigades are moving up, and will occupy the town to-night. We are getting fair re-mount for our dismounted men.

I send this to Lagrange, 25 miles north, by special messenger.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.

The story about an alleged iron-clad which run the blockade off Charleston, is traceable here to an event that occurred over a month ago, and which was soon after our arrival.

The Flamborough rifled gun made no impression upon the blockade runner, simply because none of the random shots struck her, as the rebel steamer run by the Flamborough during the night. Much talk is said about the rebels being reinforced with iron-clad vessels from Europe, but no confirmation at the navy department, which is not indifferent to obtaining facts on that subject.

New York, Nov. 13.

Advices from Port Royal, by the gunboat Western World, report that a naval and military expedition, comprising 300 Rhode Islanders, had torn up the rails of the Charleston and Savannah railroad. A large number of rebel troops arrived from Charleston, and our forces retreated to the boats.

A rebel deserter reported that Beauregard was to attack Fort Pulaski about the 17th. The engines were being removed from the Nashville to be placed in one of the rebel rams of which several are about ready.

A negro company is doing picket duty on St. Simons Island, and the officers are two black men.

Two black men of them recently proceeded up Darien river and captured a rebel deputy marshal and two pickets.

St. Catharines Island is evacuated by the rebels, who took the negroes with them, killing two who refused to go. The health of the troops at Port Royal is good.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 13.

Gen. Corcoran and staff arrived at Fort Monroe, this a. m. Maj. Gen. Dix went to the city at 11 a. m. to review the troops at that place.

The Express of Nov. 10th has the following: "The ghost of recognition of the southern confederacy by France and England, after having been solemnly waked for the tenth time, has again been consigned to the shades below, where we hope it will remain for the balance of the war. We are tired of the freakish reappearance of this phantom and wish never to see it again paraded before the public eye."

We have information that the enemy is in possession of Williamsburg and Hamilton, in Martin county, and a large federal force is marching on Fairfax. Our small forces engaged them at Williamsburg, but the one my overwhelming numbers forced our men to fall back. Our loss was 12, the enemy's 10. Much damage was done to the buildings by shelling in Williamsburg and Hamilton. Cars have been ordered to Harbor to move government stores.

On Tuesday night all our available forces around Kingston received orders to go as near New Kent as they could, and consequently to expect stirring news from that quarter. We believe Weidon is the point the enemy wishes to reach.

Mr. Trumbull said, in Warren, North Carolina, six negroes on Wednesday last at the following prices: one negro man, 40 years old, $1065; one negro woman, 50 years old, $800; one negro woman, 34 years old, $2300; one girl, 20 years old, $2500; one woman, 25 years old and infant, $1410; one girl, 6 years old, $1520. These negroes were all likely house servants, probably paid for in Confederate notes.

Part 13.

The Washington Star, of this evening, says: "We have information from the front representing that a considerable portion of Jackson's forces is making its way over the northwestern Virginia turnpike towards Cumberland, Md. While inclined to doubt the accuracy of this news, so far at least as to the extent of the rebel force marching in that direction, if it is true, Jackson designs seeking to divert as large a Union force as he can from the serious work now before Burnside. The route is an old one of his, which will hardly win this time. We apprehend the rebel authorities are just now bending every nerve to strengthen their army between the Rappahannock and the Rapidan. Floyd's entire force has been recalled from Western Virginia, and if not already arrived at Gordonsville, will have all been gathered there in a few days.—Bragg's movements, too, have been mysterious for more than a week past, and rebel citizens of Virginia sincerely believe he is rapidly moving by rail to join Lee's army. But for the recent stay of the army of our army of the Potomac, all these rebel efforts to strengthen their force to meet the shock of battle soon to come off, if the advance be not abandoned altogether, would have been too late, for by today an engagement that would have placed the throat of Richmond and Gordonsville in Gen. McClellan's grasp would probably have been fought and won."

Nov. 13.

Tribune's Dispatch.—A special correspondent with Burnside's army telegraphs that on Wednesday our front was 15 miles beyond the Rappahannock river. General Lee's army, reported to be Stone- wall Jackson's corps, are in strong force near our advance. A Lynchburg paper says that the number of desertions daily from the rebel army is startling, and that they are often the best class of soldiers. It says the confederate government is fully alive to the magnitude of the evil, and is enforcing the death penalty in the case of every deserter.

NEAR RAPPAHANNOCK STATION, Nov. 13.

Special to Tribune.—A negro came into our lines at Rappahannock Station, and reports that in an outpost of the enemy opposite the bridge, the force consists of seven companies of infantry and some cavalry, and a detachment of 200 soldiers have gone to Sankville to suppress a riot there.

A squad of 50 soldiers were out this afternoon, near Belgium, and were attacked by a body of men outnumbering them six or seven to one. The boys stood their ground bravely, wounding one of the rebels severely, if not fatally, and capturing fifty-one. Two others brought in nine just before dark.

Marshall McIndoe is doing his work well, and is ably assisted by the officers and men belonging to the detachment. They are sustained by the citizens, and it is more than probable that mob law will receive a lesson which will be remembered for some time.

A six-pounder field piece was captured about 9 o'clock this morning, and is now under guard at the court house. The insurgents were well armed, but are no match for the volunteers who are sustaining the cause of law and order.

The feeling of satisfaction is universal among the citizens and passengers.

The town presents a sad appearance.—Seven buildings are completely gutted. Four elegant pianos are among the property destroyed.

In haste, yours, S. W. S.

The Draft—The Mob—And Politics.

The draft was brought to a sudden termination here, because it began, by a mob, principally from the 6th and 9th wards, and the commissioner, to save his life—for there is no disguising the fact that he could not have proceeded with safety to his person and life—resigned. It is significant that the very class who resisted the draft here, on election day, paraded an effigy of Judge Potter hung, and, as a negro, labeled, through the streets of Milwaukee, and kept this at that condition at the 3rd ward poll a considerable portion of the day. It is also interesting that he has been leading a mob of republicans here, who united with the "Hanging Judge" and a "Negro effigy" party, in the election of James S. Brown, and a personal experience of a mob—some of them at least—composed of the same class who have disgraced Milwaukee by their outrage upon Judge Potter and their resistance to a law for a draft. The riot in Ozauckee, too, by which property has been destroyed, buildings demolished, persons injured and lives endangered, was the work of democrats, incited to riot by the teachings of the News and the Sea Bote. And they are encouraged to resistance by the party aid and fellowship of those republicans who have joined them in the hour of the deepest democratic servility to slavery.—Daily Life.

THE THIRTY-THIRD WISCONSIN REGIMENT. This splendid regiment, as per announcement in the Tribune of yesterday, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Racine, where they have been in camp, en route for Cairo and the south. The regiment numbers 900 men—four companies from Grant county, two each from Kenosha and Rock, and the balance from various points adjacent to Racine. They were mustered into service and went into camp at Racine on the 1st of October, and have the reputation in Wisconsin of being the best drilled and best drilled regiment which has left that state. They are armed with the Enfield rifle and completely equipped, except the rubber blankets, which they still need.

The regiment is composed of the very best fighting stock in Wisconsin, and made up mainly of farmers' boys. The time spent in camp has been most thoroughly employed by them in drilling. Where a state has sent so many splendid regiments into the field comparisons are odious, but in exception must be made in this instance. Military drill and best drilled regiment in the west, and the credit of being the best, if not the best, drilled regiment in the service. Their march through this city warrants the assertion and was the theme of constant praise on every hand. It is a most striking instance of the aptitude of Americans for military life. These men were fresh from the harvest field, unaccustomed to the manual of arms or the technicalities of drill, and yet in the brief space of a month and a half have acquired a perfection in these respects truly astonishing. Their bodies were as hard as steel, and they were by their march effected with a uniformity and precision equal to that of veterans. The regiment left for Cairo about 5 o'clock, occupying nineteen passenger coaches.—Chicago Tribune of Thursday.

EIGHTY-ONE OZAUKEE PRISONERS.—The steamer submerg brought here this morning 81 Ozaukee rioters, who were under the charge of a detachment from the 25th, consisting of Capt. W. C. and company. They were marched through the city in the form of a hollow square, with the prisoners in the center. They looked decidedly crestfallen, and were probably deeply ashamed of the scrape they have got themselves into. They have been taken to Camp Washburn, and will undoubtedly be put into them without any further chance of a draft.—Wisconsin.

The Racine Journal announces the completion of the draft in that city. Three wards, the first, fourth and fifth, were drawn. There were for the whole of them 543 names in the box, and 22 the number drawn. Two aldermen appear to be among the number drawn.

Who sent the Bourbon Whiskey to the Battery Boys?

To the Editors of the Gazette:—The Monitor of this morning publishes a letter purporting to have been written by D. R. B., from the 12th Wisconsin battery, in which the writer states that the bottles of Bourbon whiskey sent from Mr. Bates, in the box sent about the 21st of October, did not help his election, as he was beaten three votes by said battery boys.

I wish to state that I had personal charge of the packages sent in said box, and marked most of them myself to the boys in the battery. I know who sent the Bourbon in bottles, referred to by said B. R. B. Mr. Bates did not pay for any Bourbon sent in said box. The only packages paid for by Mr. Bates was a lot of tobacco and cigars. I know the fact that Mr. Palmer sent a case of Bourbon whiskey from his drug store.

From the Second Cavalry.

HELENA, Ark., Nov. 5.

I will give you the vote of our regiment. My company gave Sloan 18 votes; Co. F, 7; Co. E, 10; and Co. I, 1. Sloan received in all, 36 votes. The vote in the regiment seems small. We have a large number that are not voters on account of their age. A. C. Bates received 7 votes; John R. Bennett 17, and Holdredge 17; the rest of the ticket 16. Wm. A. Lawrence, for senator, 22 votes; Jonathan Cory, for assembly, 5; Jacob Fowler 3, and Joseph Spaulding 2.

I am going away this morning on a scout, to be gone some five or six days, and thought that you might want to know how the vote stood here. There is no news here at present. The weather is very fine at this time, and the health of the regiment is improving very much.

NATHAN L. PARKER.

MODE OF DRAFTING.—The following is the way drafting was done in Green county, as described by the Monroe Sentinel:

The names of all the able-bodied men in the town are put in a box, on separate slips of paper, which are so folded when put in that no one can read the names on them when the box is first unfolded; the box is then thoroughly shaken, so as to change the relative positions of all the names. The people of the town to be drafted then have the privilege of choosing a person who shall draw for them. This person is blindfolded, and, seated with his right side to the table on which sits the box, extends his arm and draws out one of the names, which is laid upon the table (still folded) and numbered. This process is repeated until the number required has been drawn out, when the box is closed, and the commissioner proceeds to open the slips that have been drawn (commencing with No. 1) and read the names thereon. In evidence of the fairness with which everything is done, we will mention that the parties who were drawn expressed their entire satisfaction with the method of drafting, and declared that they had no fault to find with the commissioner.

After the drafting for each town was over, the commissioner announced that he was authorized by the governor to say that all who chose could have the privilege of volunteering for three years, or during the war, and by so doing receive the government bounty of $100, and the state aid of $5 per month to those who have families.

Marshall R. Wilder, of Boston, whose pear orchard is unequalled in the state, not less than 800 varieties of pear trees, mostly of mature growth. The editor of the Country Gentleman, who has lately visited this orchard, says: "The pear trees, which closely cover several acres, are of various ages, but a large majority are from twelve to twenty years old. A dwarf Blount Moreau, in bearing, is thirty-three years planted." Mr. Wilder, at the late meeting of the pomological society, in answer to an inquiry, gave the following list of six most profitable varieties of pear, viz., Bartlett, Ashton, Urbaniste, Moreau, Winkfield, and Louis Bonne de Jersey.
